

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CONTACT: Kristina Kronenberg
kkronenberg@questex.com
714/338-6743

Home Media Magazine's Annual Home Entertainment Summit: New Dimensions Takes Aim at Blu-Ray Disc, 3D
Eighth Annual Event Moves to Santa Monica

April 23, 2009 — Buoyed by exciting new programs on 3D and BD Live technology, The Eighth Annual Home Entertainment Summit: New Dimensions is moving from Los Angeles to the nearby Loews Santa Monica June 29-30, 2009.

The event, produced by Home Media Magazine, is expected to draw a who's who of Hollywood home entertainment leaders as well as key retailers from the sellthrough, rental and online sectors. Also attending will be media and key members of the blogging community.

The Summit will open with a welcoming cocktail party Monday night, June 29, 2009. Programs will be held Tuesday, June 30, and include a 3D supersession, market research reports on the state of the home entertainment industry and its future, sessions on retailing and going green, and the popular Presidents Panel, featuring the top executives from the studios' home entertainment divisions.

The conference will end with the DVD Critics Awards on Tuesday, June 30, honoring the best DVDs and Blu-rays of 2008, as chosen by a panel of DVD experts and entertainment journalists. Submissions are now being accepted; please visit { HYPERLINK "<http://www.homemediamagazine.com>" } for submission information.

The summit is produced by Home Media Magazine in cooperation with DEG: The Digital Entertainment Group. Advance registration fees are $545 for DEG members and $595 for all others. Qualified retailers will be able to register for the event at a special rate of just $195. Advance registration ends Tuesday, May 26. Special press registration is available to credentialed media, please visit { HYPERLINK "<http://www.homemediamagazine.com>" } for more information.

# #